General Crook's Indian Expedition

Chicago, March 22 .- The following telegram was received at General Sheridan's headquarters this morning.

Reno, March 22 .- Cut loose from the wagon train on the 17th instant; scouted Tongue and Rosebud rivers until satisfied there were no Indians on them, and then struck across the country toward Powder river. General Reynolds, with a part of the command, was pushed forward on the trail leading to the village of Crazy Horse, near the mouth of Little Powder river. This he attacked and destroyed on the 17th, finding it a perfect magazine of ammunition, war material and general supply. Crazy Horse had with him the Cheyennes and some of the Minneccoujoes, probably, in all, one-half of the Indians of the reservation. Every evidence was found to prove that these Indians are in a co-partnerthip with those at the Red Cloud and Spotted Tail agencies, and that the proceeds of their raids spon the settlements had been COMMISSION MERCHANT. taken to these agencies and a supply brought out in return. In this connection I would again urgently recommend the immediate transfer of those Indians to the Provisions, Missouri. I am satisfied that if Sitting Bull is on this side of the Yellowstone he is camped at the mouth of Powder river. We had terribly severe weather during our absence from the wagon trains. It snowed every day but one, and the mercurial thermometer on several occasions failed to regis-GEORGE CROOK. Brigadier-General.

Celebration of The Lord's Supper.

The ancient church often gave the Lord's Supper to children. Infant communion lasted in the Latin Church till the twelfth century, and still exists in the Greek Church. The deacons used to carry it to those who were prevented from being present at divi: e service. The apostles received it from Christ, according to the eastern customs, reclining; in the fourth century the custom of standing, and the later that of kneeling. was introduced. Kneeling is still the general or prevailing practice among Roman tant Espicopal Church, the Methodists, and the Lutherans; in the other churches, sitting prevails, as being a more Scriptural posture. In a few denominations it is customary to sit around a table, and in some places twelve always sit down at a time. At first, bread and the cup were given linto the hands of the communicants; later the distributing clergyman sometimes placed the bread in their mouth, and held the cup to their lips. The ommunion of the laity is prohibited by all the Christian churches; the self-commun- And Good Commercial Bills. ion of clergymen is generally practised in the Roman Catholic and eastern Churches, and is also customary in the Protestant Episcopal Church, and among the Moravians. In some churches various ceremonies, as burning of candles, etc., accompany the celebration; in most of the reformed churches nothing is changed in the usual form of the divine service, except that a special com-munion-service is used.—[Appletons' Ameri-can Cyclopædia revised edition, article "Lord's Supper.',

NEW PATENTS .- Through Dewey & Co., Patent Agents, S. F., we receive the following advance list of U. S. Patents, granted to Pacific Coast inventors, viz: B. A. Lillie, Portland, Ogn., machine for stoning fruit; J. H. Rawlings and Lambert Irelan, Watsonville, Cal., blast furnace; Ellen Rohrer, Monmouth, Ogn., remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs; S. Groy, S. F., twin stairs elevators and light shafts; Rock soap company, trademark, soap.

NEW MUCILAGE.—The Journal de Pharmacie states that if, to a strong solution of gum arabic, measuring 814 ounces, a solution of 30 grains of sulphate of aluminum dissolved in % of an ounce of water be added, a very strong mucilage is formed, capable of fastening wood together, or of mending poreclain or glass.
